Ergorest
Mobile Forearm Rest

by Kondator

Ergorest Standard movable arm rest is the clear choice for maximum relief of the arm.

Ergorest MousePad with mouse table. Specially developed for alternating work, where the hand is offered a natural change-over between keyboard and mouse.

Flexible and optimal relief

Strain/stress injuries have long been a well-known problem within the industrial and health care sections. During the latter years, this has even been given attention in more normal, computer-related office work which entails static work positions. Ergorest is a mobile forearm rest that relieves the load on the entire forearm. Conditions of tension in the shoulders, neck and shoulder blades are reduced by up to 90 %.
